At this point on the health and environment SERAS (SRC) is supporting Dan Wall doing visual presentations of his information for public meetings that's it right now.

I am available as requested, I have not been very involved as I have a number of things going on in the office and at home. In addition I figured we did not need another chief in the kitchen. So, just be aware I am not on any of the communication lists, have not been asked to be on calls, etc; so when I get a request or need to fill in, I will need information on what is currently going on.

Charters is currently overseeing contractor and Sprenger will be his backup when David is out of the office on leave. You will see a few emails providing more context on this later in my info blast to you...

Not sure how we might pay for any contract support yet, but brain-trust support by ERT should not be a problem. Please see below and coordinate on how to provide support.
